OIDHREACHT AN CHLÁIR presents, as part of its IPB-funded Community Memories Project series, Memories of Football in Miltown on Monday, November 19 at 8.30pm in The Malbay. In this videorecorded discussion of football in earlier times, Cyril Jones, Canon Séamus Mullin, John Reidy and Michael Burke recall changes in the way football was played, including use of the Sling (later replaced by the sideline kick), the training and tactical approaches employed, and the great Clare and Miltown players down the years. In a wideranging discussion, the panel, with contributions from the audience, share memories of the construction of the pitch and early dressingrooms, hurling and camogie in Miltown, Bord na nÓg, the keen club rivalries in West Clare, and many anecdotes on the playing of illegal players and other memorable incidents and shenanigans.
